Manager Comment

In May, the US and China reached an agreement to reduce the reciprocal tariffs previously imposed on Chinese goods. Meanwhile, the UK economy posted solid growth in Q1 2025, outperforming all other G7 nations during the same period. In a significant development, Moody's became the third major credit rating agency – after S&P Global in 2011 and Fitch in 2023 – to downgrade the US's credit rating. South Africa's unemployment rate increased in Q1 2025 compared to the previous quarter. At the same time, inflation remained below the South African Reserve Bank (SARB)'s 3-6% target range for a second consecutive month, prompting the central bank to lower interest rates. This led to a discussion to potentially adopt a new inflation target.

Developed market (DM) equities climbed back into positive territory for the year with the MSCI World Index ending at 5.92% month-on-month (m/m) in US dollars. This is the best monthly return in eighteen months. Although they were also in positive territory, emerging market (EM) equities underperformed their DM peers with the MSCI EM Index ending at 4.31% m/m in dollars. The biggest contributor to the MSCI EM's performance was Chinese equities. Magnificent 7 stocks were at the forefront of May's rally, as strong earnings announcements drove the S&P 500's return of 6.29% m/m in US dollars. Global property posted gains of 2.60% m/m for May, but global bonds posted losses of -0.36% m/m in the same period, both in US dollars. The FTSE 100 Index gained 4.14% m/m in pounds, with the Euro Stoxx 50 Index gaining 5.42% m/m in pounds. The Dow Jones Index was also positive for the month, at 4.16% m/m in US dollars. Japan's benchmark Nikkei Index continued April's gains into May, ending the month at 5.33% m/m in yen.

South African equity markets followed global equity markets higher in May with the FTSE/JSE All Share Index ending at 3.14% m/m in rand terms. Industrials and Resources posted gains of 2.37% m/m and 2.61% m/m respectively. Property, Financials, and Cash posted gains of 2.32% m/m, 2.47% m/m and 0.63% m/m. The bond market was positive for short-, medium-, and long-term bonds, with the FTSE/JSE All Bond Index ending the month positively at 2.73% m/m. Bonds of 1-3 years were positive at 0.81% m/m along with bonds of 3-7 years at 1.74% m/m. Bonds of 7-12 years were positive at 3.64% m/m, and bonds of 12 years and above ended positively at 3.62% m/m. The rand strengthened against the US dollar by 3.04% m/m, the euro by 3.18% m/m, and against the pound by 2.06% m/m.
